

Edition 2 – 10 August 2016

From the Principal

Term 3 Week 4

Week 4 sees all of our educational programs in full swing here at Woy Woy Public School. Students have settled in nicely after the holiday break and are working productively in classrooms across the school. Last week was Education Week for public schools across the state. The theme for Education Week 2016 was 'Shared stories, better learning, stronger communities'. A special Education Week Assembly was organised for last Thursday with the school's dance group due to perform under the COLA. Unfortunately inclement weather forced us to 'downsize' the assembly and move into the hall, however, students were still presented with special Education Week academic achievement and 'Values' awards in front of some very proud parents. After the assembly, a large number of parents, grandparents and friends took the opportunity to visit their children's classrooms, and in many instances were able to get involved in some of the engaging activities that were being conducted at the time. Afternoon tea was held in the hall following the 'open classrooms' sessions, and this was again very well attended. Overall the day was a very positive event for all members of our school community and an excellent opportunity for students, parents and teachers to interact and celebrate the importance of public education, and to demonstrate their pride in our school. Thank you to everyone for their effort on the day. It was wonderful to see so many happy faces at our school!

Staffing Update

In Week 2's edition of the Namalata, Ms Buckley advised readers of changes to staffing for Weeks 4 through to 10 of this term. We have now also filled the Early Stage 1 (Preschool and Kindergarten) Relieving Assistant Principal position, formerly held by myself, for the remainder of the term. We would like to advise you all that Mrs Michelle Young was successful in her application for the position, and we'd like to congratulate Michelle and publicly commend her for her dedication to both Kindergarten and whole school programs and initiatives.

School Development Day

Last Saturday, staff members attended the School Development Day at Bara Barang Green Central at Kariong. Staff were treated to a presentation from Gavi Duncan of the Bara Barang Corporation in their 'outdoor cultural classroom' and then participated in a 'bush creation experience' at Bulgandry – a place of great significance for local Aboriginal people. Teachers examined rock engravings that are between 2 000 and 10 000 years old, and the historical and cultural context of the engravings was explained. Much was learnt about the kinship of Aboriginal people to the land through totemship and spiritual connections. Teachers came away feeling much better equipped to include local Aboriginal perspectives in their lessons and units of work. Thank you to Mrs Janine Szostak for organising the day.

Excursions Update

Term 3 has always been an exciting one for the students of Woy Woy Public School, with a variety of high-quality camps, excursions and in-school events scheduled for students throughout the school. Last week our Year 5 students went to the Great Aussie Bush Camp at Kincumber from Monday through to Wednesday. Reports from Mrs Cooper, Mrs Hunt, Mr Brady and Mrs Pathirana have indicated that despite the wet weather, the students thoroughly enjoyed themselves and demonstrated excellent behaviour at all times. The Year 5 students themselves have talked excitedly about their experiences at the camp and we have also received some very positive feedback from parents in the wake of this excursion. A huge thank you to Mrs Cooper, Mrs Hunt, Mr Brady and Mrs Pathirana for all of their hard work with the camp and for giving up time spent with their families in the comfort of their own homes for the benefit of our students.

It's worth noting that a number of other staff members helped out at the camp in their own time; in some cases leaving school at 2 o'clock in their release time, in order to spend a few hours over at the camp in the company of their students. I'd like to acknowledge the efforts of Mrs Leanne Wiliame, Mrs Donna Turner, Mr Pete Smith, Mr Paul Betts, Mrs Janine Szostak and Ms Cinead Webb, who is with us as an intern on K-6PC. Their efforts in volunteering their time are also greatly appreciated.

In the coming weeks, our Year 4 students will head off over the mountains to Bathurst and Jenolan Caves and our Year 6 students will head to the national capital to learn more about the processes of federal government. We wish them all well for the exciting educational experiences they have to look forward to.

Ms Wiliame and Mrs Kathy Riley have also recently taken our Early Intervention students for a day trip to the Australian Reptile Park, where their students were able to meet students from other EI units on the Central Coast and get up close to the animals. Ms Wiliame has reported that the day was thoroughly enjoyable for all who attended.

Fete Update

Last Wednesday afternoon saw a very productive fete meeting held in the staffroom at school. Preparation for October's fete has gained a lot of momentum in the first few weeks of this term, with the school receiving a host of generous donations for prize packs, and with teachers and their classes signing on to host stalls and activities. The fete is a great opportunity to bring the school community together to raise money that goes directly into educational programs run at the school (such as the Stephanie Alexander Kitchen Garden Program), and for purchasing up-to-date ICT equipment (in the form of laptops, tablets etc) so that our students can really push ahead with 21st century learning technologies. We still need more parent volunteers to get involved in the lead-up to the fete and to take charge of stalls and activities. As I said, this is a community event and it's the students who reap the rewards of your involvement. If anyone knows of anyone with experience or expertise with creative and performing arts (or with party tricks and the like!), please feel free to let them know that they are welcome to contact the school.

Thanks to all who have attended meetings, given generously when asked for donations or been involved in any capacity. Special thanks to Mrs Janelle Graham who has worked tirelessly already to get this idea off the ground. Your support is much appreciated!

Kindergarten Orientation

The Kindergarten orientation program will continue this term with the next major event being an information session for parents/carers of children who will be starting Kindergarten in 2017. The information session will be held on Tuesday 16th August 2016 in our school hall. The session will commence at 6:00pm and conclude at 7:00pm. Our Kindergarten teachers will be presenting information about the sorts of literacy and numeracy activities that children will participate in on a daily basis when they start at our school. The teachers will also present information about teaching and learning activities for the other Key Learning Areas, as well as more general information about making a successful start to the first year of school. If you know of anyone who would be interested in attending this meeting please pass this information onto them. Otherwise, we hope to see you there!

If you have not already submitted enrolled paperwork for 2017 Preschool and/or Kindergarten places, please consider doing so sooner rather than later!

Positive Behaviour for Learning (PBL)

Positive Behaviour for Learning (PBL) is a whole school approach to proactive, school wide behaviour management. At Woy Woy Public School we explicitly teach our students how to demonstrate a different positive behaviour that is linked to our school rules and expectations every week, and we reward the students who have demonstrated positive behaviour with Win Bin tickets. Student can place their Win Bin tickets into the barrel to enter the weekly prize draw, or they can choose to stockpile their tickets and exchange their accumulated tickets for a reward.

This term we have taught students to adopt positive behaviours around 'Being Safe' by wearing a hat when out in the sunshine at break times, 'Being Cooperative' when meeting their teachers at bell times and 'Being Responsible' when using toilet facilities in the school. This week's PBL focus lessons are about 'Being Cooperative' at break times when they are inside classrooms because of wet weather. More information will be posted in each edition of the Namalata so that parents and carers are aware of the weekly PBL focus and can discuss and reinforce the importance of the suggested positive behaviours with their children should they wish to do so.

If you have any questions related to the school's PBL program or about student wellbeing policies and practices, please direct them to either myself or Mrs Janine Szostak, who is currently looking after student wellbeing within the school.

Requests and Reminders

Unfortunately, we have again had instances of parents taking other people's children to task on the playground before or after school. I would like to remind people that it is the school's position that parents should never admonish other people's children, but rather should let the teacher's (or in some cases, members of the school executive) manage such situations in a calm, professional and balanced manner. Anne and her canteen team have also asked me to request that parents be reminded of potential problems that can arise when they send their children to school each day with large amounts of money to spend at the school canteen. Please send only small amounts of money (sufficient for purchasing food for the day in question) with your children each day. And finally, Ms Buckley has asked me to remind people not to use the vehicle access gates when entering or leaving the school grounds. Thank you for your assistance with these matters.

Sport

Mr Graham's Girls' Soccer team have again outdone themselves having made it through to the last sixteen teams in the state in the NSW PSSA knockout competition. On Wednesday, they were successful in defeating Lisarow public School by 4 goals to 1 (Liesel Collins scored three goals and Emma Tranter scored the other). Mr Graham reported that the girls played with passion and pride, and that he was, and is, very proud of their achievements. The girls play again next Thursday morning at 10am at Umina Oval against Bateau Bay Public School. I'm sure you'll join me in wishing the all the best in their quest to become state champions.

Go girls!

Special Education News

On Thursday the 28th of July the Focus Body and Soul Program started for the students in the emotional support classes at Woy Woy Public School. The students participated in boxing exercises and mindfulness and motivational sessions. They were all active participants in the activities and had a positive approach towards their learning. Each student walked away with an experience that was motivating and positive for them as individuals. This was shown on their smiling faces!!

The Focus Body and Soul program will continue every Thursday for the two ED classes. The program not only concentrates on the physical aspects of the child but also the mental thoughts, perceptions and beliefs of what our students can achieve as individuals and together. Well done everyone! 😊

Important Information About Children's Food

It is important to practice safe food handling and hygiene when preparing food and drink or when using food as part of a learning experience with young children. Children are considered to be a 'vulnerable group' because their immune systems are still developing and safe food handling can help to prevent the spread of food-borne illness within the early childhood setting.

There has been a recent spike in cases of salmonella across Australia that has been linked to rockmelons, please see attached media release from NSW Health for more information. Please remember when purchasing fruit such as rockmelons purchase only unbruised and undamaged fruit and ensure fresh-cut produce is kept refrigerated or surrounded by ice within two hours of peeling or cutting. The NSW Food Authority also recommends washing rockmelons immediately before eating.

For more information about safe food handling and hygiene within the early childhood setting please have a look at:

Avoid recalled rockmelon after Salmonella outbreak: NSW Health

NSW Health is warning people to not consume rockmelon that is being recalled while an investigation into the source of a national outbreak of a rare strain of Salmonella is underway.

There have been 86 reported cases of Salmonella Hvittingfoss (S. Hvittingfoss) nationally, 43 of these reported in NSW between June 14 and August 1, 2016. The affected people are of varied ages, but 49 per cent (21) of the cases in NSW were in children under five years old.

By comparison, between 2011 and 2016, NSW received an average of fewer than two notifications of S. Hvittingfoss per month.

The NSW Food Authority advises that the Northern Territory based company "Red Dirt" will undertake a trade level recall of their product after detection of Salmonella bacteria by South Australian authorities on Tuesday 2 August. Food Standards Australia New Zealand (FSANZ) has issued a warning that consumers, especially infants, the elderly, pregnant women or people with compromised immune systems, should not consume rockmelon while the investigation continues.

Dr Jeremy McAnulty, Director of Health Protection NSW, said NSW Health was working closely with the NSW Food Authority and other jurisdictions on an investigation into possible food sources.

"Although the source of the outbreak at this stage is still unclear, consumption of rockmelon is common to many of the patients in NSW," Dr McAnulty said.

"As a precaution, anyone who may have rockmelon in their home and is unsure of its origin should not eat the product.

"Salmonella infection is mainly caused by eating contaminated food. Infection causes gastroenteritis and in some people, particularly young babies, the elderly and those with weakened immune systems, it can be severe and require hospitalisation for dehydration.

"Like many other fresh foods, sliced melons can be easily contaminated with Salmonella bacteria and should be kept refrigerated.

"Symptoms of salmonellosis include fever, headache, diarrhoea, abdominal pain, nausea, vomiting. Symptoms usually begin from about six to 72 hours after eating the contaminated food and usually last for four to seven days. However they can last a lot longer."

In Australia, most Salmonella infections occur after eating contaminated food or sometimes after contact with another person with the infection. Safe food handling including thorough cooking of meat, poultry and eggs and good hand hygiene can prevent infection.

Seasons for Growth

Dear Parents/Caregivers

Woy Woy Public School is again offering the Seasons for Growth program in Week 5 of Term 3 this year. This program will be offered to Stage 2 and Stage 3 students. The course is designed for children who may have experienced grief due to a significant loss. This grief response may have been triggered by a number of reasons including: death of a family member or friend; family separation or divorce and other significant changes to a child's life. More courses will be offered during the year.

This educational program teaches children strategies to help cope with change, loss and grief in their lives. It allows children to normalise change and helps them to validate the feelings and emotions associated with change.

The children will meet peers in a small, confidential group accompanied by a trained facilitator. The main course runs over 5 weeks, plus a celebration session, and will be conducted in school hours. For more information on Seasons for Growth please go to the website www.goodgrief.org.au.

For further details, please contact Mr. Sam Collins at Woy Woy Public School on Ph. 4341 3555.

If you would like your child to have the chance to participate, please complete the Registration Form below and return to Mr Collins as soon as possible. Please note: Your child also needs to sign the permission slip, to indicate a willingness to participate in the program.

Regards

Mr Sam Collins
